

ASE

American Small Farm

Volume 18, Number 7

July 2009

Editor: Andrew Stevens • Circulation: Marti Smith
Creative Director: Ryan Mumm

Londa Anklam, Herman Beck-Chenoweth, Laura McGinnis, George S. Myers, Brian A. Nummer, Debbie Roos, Bill Schaefer, Randy Sell, and Anne Zajac

Advertising: Marti Smith, Director;
Eric Kincaid, Account Manager • Leon Kincaid, Account Manager

Publisher: Farm & Ranch Publishing, LLC
Andy Stevens: Vice-President, Editor • Marti Smith: Vice-President, Advertising

Publishing Office: 560 Sunbury Road, Suite 6, Delaware, OH 43015
Phone: (740) 363-2395 • FAX: (740) 369-9526

E-mail: info@smallfarm.com
website: <http://www.smallfarm.com>

(ISSN 1543-1487). American Small Farm, is published monthly for persons who own or operate small farms or ranches, by Farm & Ranch Publishing, LLC • 560 Sunbury Road, Suite 6 • Delaware, OH 43015 • (740) 363-2395. Periodical Postage paid at Delaware, OH and additional mailing offices. Copyright 2009 by Farm & Ranch Publishing, LLC; all rights reserved.

Subscription rates: One year, $18; two year, $30. Single copy price: $2.50. Unsolicited manuscripts and photos are welcome and will be considered. Material must be accompanied by a self addressed, stamped envelope; publisher assumes no responsibility for unsolicited materials. Renewals and change of address: send the address label from your most recent copy and your new address; allow six weeks for service. POSTMASTER: Send address changes to American Small Farm, 560 Sunbury Road, Suite 6, Delaware, OH 43015.

Controlling Goat Parasites -- Is It a Losing Battle? 8

No, it's not a losing battle, but unless producers give this issue some thought and attention, the victories can be few and far between. One of the biggest health problems faced by goat producers in the southeast and south central U.S. is worms.

Jerusalem Artichokes – A Fuel Source 12

Jerusalem artichokes deserve special mention as a source of alcohol because they contain between 16 to 18 percent fermentable material. In addition, the starches present can be converted without the use of malt or enzymes if cooked for a sufficient length of time.

Marketing To Restaurants 14

Here is one of the tips from this article. Don't try and offer something that the buyer already gets locally, unless you are offering it at a time when local supply is low. Carve a niche for yourself by being the first to offer a new product.

Colonial Sheep Collection Finds Way To Colorado 16

What do the Agricultural Research Service (ARS), George Washington's Mount Vernon home, and Colonial Williamsburg, Virginia, have in common? Here's a hint: The answer has four legs and a woolly tail.

Are Rabbits In Your Future? 18

In the United States rabbits are raised predominantly for nonfood purposes. And many people raise rabbits for show or as pets. Rabbits are also popular as 4-H and FFA projects.

Pet Health Concerns 20

In this article you will find that prevention, as always, is the best strategy.

COLUMNS & DEPARTMENTS

Small Farm Talk 3

This month Editor Andy Stevens asks, "What changes are you going to make this year on your place in the country?"

Over The Fence 5

This column is a place for you to share your ideas and also learn about what is happening on family farms.

Homeland Treasures 22

Yolanda & Friends Quilt Patterns are featured.

Recipes 24

This month we learn about canning and preserving.

Letter From Maggie 25

This is a satirical column looking at the world through the eyes of a puppy.

On the bookshelf 26

Books that can help you do a better job on your farm.

Calendar 28

Here are some farm shows and events for your learning and enjoyment.

Last Word 31

Bill Schaefer suggests that we savor summer at home. He says let us savor these summer days at home, not with a home improvement project, tempting as those may be, but rather savor the days of summer just for you. Don't you deserve it?